FROM WASHINGTON.

PORT MEigs, D. C., Nov. 29, 1863.

FERRY GOODALL: "I don't wish to flatter, but the WAR EAGLE is a gay little paper. While _____, was stationed at Columbus I used to receive it regularly from him, and I always considered the perusal of it a sure cure for the 'blues.' I have done such things as write for the papers myself and have even stooped so low as to write 'poetry.' Should you ever wish anything in that line concerning matters in this portion of 'Father Abraham's vineyard' most willingly will I do my best to accommodate you. We this morning got the news of Gen. Grant's glorious achievements at Chattanooga. Give me 'U. S.' for solving a knotty problem. Bragg cannot say he was surprised this time for it is plain enough that he was on the 'lookout.' Well, you Western soldiers have a way of thrashing rebs which we chaps East would do well to learn. Wonder is the thing 'patented'?"

We also get report that the "army of the Potomac" has again taken up its line of march for Richmond and has already moved a number of feet, (perhaps yards);—no doubt the "elements" will interpose as usual. But to be serious, I should not be surprised if Meade hurt some one yet. He seems to be rather quarrelsome. He won't let Lee put him on his "flanks" and carry off his supplies, &c., as other Generals have done. In fact Meade seems to say, by all of his movements, "we make no boast." I rather expect he will be successful in his present advance. I will not examine myself, however, for fear I should find "the wish father to the thought."

Washington begins to show signs of the approaching session of Congress. Many of the members have already arrived, as well as some of the "shanghaers on;" this latter class, owing to the enormous high price of living in the city, will have to hatch some pretty large chickens to make it pay.

I send you the Washington Chronicle. The Chronicle considers itself about the smartest team driven in Washington but some fellow at the "front" came the biggest sell on it the other day that I ever saw successfully played. He forwarded an account of a cavalry skirmish by the 4th Md. Cav., which happened near _____, on _____, in which Capts. _____ and _____ were the leading spirits. To read the account carefully no person would be apt to see the "point" but once in the secret it was one of the most vulgar things ever in print. The Chronicle innocently gave the piece a prominent place in its columns. I regret very much that I am unable to send you a copy of the paper. It was of Nov. 23d. H. A. P.

UNION CITY.

Rules and Regulations for Camp Discipline.

HEADQUARTERS 1ST BRIGADE,

6th Division, 16th Army Corps.

Union City, Tenn., Dec. 5, 1863.

GENERAL ORDER, No. 23.

I.—Hereafter the commanders of Regiments, Battery and Detachments of this Command will each "drill call" turn out for such drill as may seem to them most necessary, all officers and enlisted men of their respective commands, who are subject to this duty. The drill will not be discontinued until the "recall" is sounded.

II.—Officers and men of this command, whose guns and pistols are to be discharged, will report daily to the Acting Assistant Adjutant General, at these Headquarters, between the hours of 9 and 10 A. M. The men will be in charge of a non-commissioned officer. Promiscuous and straggling firing is strictly forbidden.

III.—No horse in the public service, whether a branded horse or a private horse ridden by a soldier, will be allowed at any time to be removed from the picket line or stable, except by order of a commissioned officer, and such order will be given only for the performance of necessary public service.

Commanders of companies of Cavalry will be especially careful that the horses of their companies are not used for pleasure riding, and they will be held personally responsible for all violations of this order.

IV.—All running or racing of horses by men of this Command is prohibited. Any soldier found violating this order will be immediately dismissed, by any officer having cognizance thereof, and made to walk; and it is hereby made the duty of every officer to enforce a strict observance of this order.

V.—No soldier will be allowed to take his horse outside the picket lines to water, unless he is marched out under a commissioned officer, or by a Sergeant ordered for that duty, and wearing his side arms.

VI.—The following rules regarding passes will be enforced:

1st. No officer or man will be permitted to leave camp without a written pass from the commanding officer of his Regiment, Battery or Detachment, and countersigned at Brigade Headquarters.

2d. Not fewer than three persons will be permitted to leave camp together, and these must be armed, and must not go more than two miles from camp.

3d. At least one commissioned officer must at all times be present with each company, and commanding officers will not issue passes in violation of this rule.

4th. Not more than three enlisted men from any one company can be permitted to leave passes at one time.

5th. Passes for enlisted men will be countersigned only between the hours of 8 and 10 A. M.

6th. No enlisted man going out with a pass will be allowed to take his horse.

VII.—Commanders of Regiments, &c., constituting this Brigade will require that a commissioned officer be present with each company of his command, at each of the following roll calls, viz: "Reveille," "Sun," "Retreat" and "Tattoo," and he will forward to these Headquarters, within twenty-four hours thereafter, the name and company of every enlisted man who has been absent from any of these roll calls, without proper authority, and of such officers as shall have failed of such duty.

VIII.—A commissioned officer in each mounted company must always be present at "Stable call," to personally superintend the grooming and feeding of the horses, and the policing of the stables; and at "water call" to see personally that all the horses of his company are properly taken to water. Commanders of Regiments, &c., will be held responsible for the performance of these duties by the officers of their commands. If necessary to secure this, they will be required to be always present to superintend the same in person. The horses must be well groomed morning and evening, and at noon, need only be fed.

IX.—The following camp calls will be sounded by the Orderly bugler at these Headquarters, and they will be immediately repeated in the different commands. No call included in this list will be sounded in any command, until it shall have first been sounded from these Headquarters, preceded by the call for "Attention." The "stable call" will be repeated only by the mounted infantry, cavalry and artillery. Dinner must not be served until after the noon roll call. Officers of the day will see that all lights in the soldiers' quarters are extinguished at "taps" and not again lighted, and that there is no noise or disturbance in camp after that hour.

X.—It is hereby forbidden to take wood for fuel, or for any other purpose from the line of felled timber, which is intended for the protection of this Command. Officers will be especially vigilant in guarding against violations of this order, and in arresting all persons of whatever grade who do violate it. Such ever command who is once reported to these Headquarters, where they will be as severely punished as they would be for undermining the walls of a regular fortification. This Section will be read by a commissioned officer at the assembly for inspection each Sunday hereafter.

By order of GEO. E. WARING, Jr.,

Colonel Commanding.

THE FLAG WE FIGHT UNDER.

Saturday, December 12, 1863.

OFFICIAL.

HEADQUARTERS 16TH ARMY CORPS,
Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 3, 1863.
SPECIAL ORDERS,
No. 307.

VIII.—Brig. Gen. A. J. Smith, commanding District of Columbus, will extend all necessary facilities to persons duly authorized by his Excellency Andrew Johnson, Military Governor of Tennessee, to recruit for Tennessee organizations.

Rations will be issued to recruits: Ordnance and Ordnance Stores, Clothing, Camp and Garrison Equipage and Quartermaster's Stores will be issued to companies and regiments as fast as filled to the maximum and mustered into the service of the United States.

Persons proposed for officers will, before being mustered into the service of the United States, be examined by a Board of Officers to be appointed by Brig. Gen. A. J. Smith, as to their qualifications, mental, moral and physical, and their fitness in a military point of view for commissions in the Army of the United States.

If the report of the Board be favorable, Brig. Gen. Smith will order persons so reported to be mustered into service in their companies and regiments, and will forward the proceedings of the Board with his action endorsed thereon, directly to Governor Johnson.

Companies must be mustered into service in their alphabetical order; old recruits raised, must, therefore, be assigned to incomplete companies.

Officers or enlisted men, of regiments now in the service of the United States who pass the required examination and accept positions in these organizations, will be mustered into service in their new grade, and will be thereupon discharged from their previous rank by orders from these Headquarters.

By order of MAJ. GEN. S. A. HURLBUT,
T. H. HARRIS,
Assistant Adjutant General.

HEADQUARTERS DIS. OF COLUMBUS,
Columbus, Ky., December 10, 1863.

SPECIAL ORDERS,

[Extract 3]

The General Court Martial convened by General Orders, No. 36, dated Headquarters District of Columbus, Columbus, Ky., June 6, 1863, and of which Major Sherman G. Smith, 40th Regt. Iowa Inf., is President, is hereby dissolved.

The Judge Advocate of the Court will deposit in the office of the Assistant Adjutant General at Columbus, all records and charges not tried.

By ORDER OF BRIGADIER GENERAL A. J. SMITH:
J. HOGAN,
Assistant Adjutant General.

OFFICE OF DIS. PROVOST MARSHAL,
6TH DIVISION, 16TH ARMY CORPS,
Columbus Ky., December 7, 1863.

GENERAL ORDERS,
No. 9.

Hereafter no enlisted man coming to town, will be allowed to bring with him arms of any kind, unless he is on duty requiring him to be armed.

The Provost Guard will arrest and confine in Guard House all offenders against this order.

BY ORDER OF I. H. WILLIAMS,
Capt. and District Provost Marshal.

APPROVED:
WM. T. SHAW, Col. Com'dg Post.
CHAS. ALDRICH,
Lieut. and Post Adjutant.

Telegraphic Summary for the week ending Dec. 12, 1863.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS.

On Wednesday, Mr. Powell of Kentucky gave notice to the Senate that he would introduce a bill to prevent military interference with State elections.

The message of the President was received and read. In the House, Mr. Stevens of Pa. gave notice of bills to enable soldiers to vote; to place negro troops on an equality with white ones; and to repeal the fugitive slave laws of 1793 and 1850. Mr. Cox's resolutions in regard to the exchange of prisoners were adopted, with an amendment by Mr. Washburne sustaining the course of the Administration.

SECRETARY OF WAR'S REPORT.

This document states that, owing to the success of the Federal arms during the past year, a reduction of over $200,000,000 has been made in the estimates. The blame for the non-exchange of prisoners is thrown entirely upon the rebels. The draft has produced 50,000 men and $10,000,000 in money. Confidence is expressed that a large proportion of the troops, whose term expires next year, will re-enter the service, and that the greater part of the force now required will be raised without a resort to drafting. The invalid Corps numbers 20,000. Negro troops to the number of 50,000 have been organized into regiments.

MORGAN ON THE WING.

From Cincinnati we learn that Federal detectives are within two hours' ride of John Morgan, who is traveling in a buggy,—in what direction is not stated. The pursuers are confident of retaking him.

THE CODE AND LITTLE DINNER.

Last Tuesday night, the Federal steamer Chesapeake was captured off Cape Cod by a rebel vessel, and taken into St. Johns, N. B. Great commotion was caused in Washington by the receipt of the news, and naval forces were immediately ordered in pursuit. The Administration will demand of the British government, the custody of the parties who effected the seizure.

HOW ARE YOU CONSCRIPTED?

The Provost Marshal General will recommend the repeal of the §300 clause of the conscription act. It is said, however, that a majority of the Senate Committee are in favor of its retention. A curtailment of the list of disabilities is to be urged in Congress.

MEAGHER NOT CAPTURED.

Gen. Meagher has not been captured by the rebels, as was reported, but is now a guest of Gen. Corcoran at Fairfax Court House.

SPECIAL ORDERS

Adjutant General Thomas issued Orders No. 94 at Goodrich's Landing, La., Nov. 5th. Col John Eaton, Jr., 9th La. Vols. of African descent, is continued as General Superintendent of freedmen, for the Department of the Tennessee, including Arkansas. No freed people will be recruited or ordered out of camp except through the officers in charge. Superintendents will encourage the people to answer calls to industry, by voluntary agreement to labor, and enforce the inviolability of the agreement. Wood chopping will be undertaken at all practicable points, under the care of the Superintendents. No physicians will be permitted to practice among these people without a certificate of competency from the Surgeon-in-Chief for freed men.

Orders, No. 96, instruct Ordnance Officers to issue to lessees of abandoned plantations, from ten to twenty-five small arms, with such a supply of ammunition as will enable them to protect themselves on their lands. The negroes will only be permitted to have possession of fire-arms when being instructed in the manual, or in cases of emergency, when the lessees deem it advisable to arm them.

Orders, No. 98, dated Natchez, Miss., Nov. 7th, provide for the greater security of Government transports by providing them with arms to resist attacks of guerrillas. We consider these last mentioned orders among the most important issued by Gen. Thomas, and hope the river pirates will meet with their just deserts.

CAPT. FRANK MOORE AGAIN!

A Big Thing at Madrid Bend!!

As we go to press we learn that Capt. Frank Moore has been putting in another of those "big ticks" for which he has long been celebrated, having "laid out" another band of guerrillas cold as a wedge, captured about 20 prisoners, and come very near capturing Sol Street a second time.

This "little affair" took place down among the canes at New Madrid Bend.

We shall try to give a full and detailed account of this affair next week.

Where's the Major Newlan?

A VISIT TO UNION CITY.

Last Monday we made a visit to our neighboring town. We found the business on the railroad very large, all the cars heavily loaded, and learned that scarcely a day had passed recently, but large amounts of private freight had to lay over. Although importunate most earnestly by shippers, Mr. Carille, who is very accommodating, has adhered to his motto, "Government business first and private business afterwards."

Our companions out were Lieut. Foulkes, the popular Brigade Quartermaster at Union City, and Adjutant (that is to be,) Leaming, of the 13th Tenn. Cav.

We were cordially invited to make ourselves at home at the Quartermaster's, where we found everything arranged in the most tasteful manner, and made the acquaintance of Capt. Young, of the 24th Mo., Provost Marshal, and his excellent wife. Parson Cogwell being present, it was, on the whole, a very pleasant party. After partaking of dinner, which was highly relished, we mounted Lieut. Foulkes' mustang, and went to find the 2d Ill. Cav. As luck would have it, to use a Greek expression, we found them all—or nearly all, absent. However, we shook hands with Capt. Whitaker, of Co. "C," and Lieuts. Lebold and Moulter, and a few men, but most of these were about ready to start out as their comrades had done.

Going to the Quartermaster's, we were shown through the establishment, the store-room, the Commissary Department, carriage house, stables, carpenter and blacksmith shops, &c. The Lieutenant is doing a large business. He has some fine stock, and we noticed a splendid buggy, reminding us that he is about as well off in that way as our Quartermaster here.

We should judge that the Lieutenant is a lover of music, from the melodeons, guitars, &c., we observed about his premises; and as he is a man of fine feelings, we should not be surprised if he were a lover of the ladies also. Thalia, a favorite muse being a female, it is fair to suppose that she is admired more by males than by her own sex. Lieut. Foulkes is a worthy and efficient officer and his post office is an example of neatness and tastefulness worthy of imitation. We hear it rumored that he is to be made a Captain in the 18th Tenn. Cavalry; also, that Capt. Young is to be a Major in the same organization. We had the pleasure of meeting at Union City, Lieut. Hanson, Adjutant of the 4th Mo. Cav., and inspecting officer at that Post; also, Lieut. Moss, of the 2d Tenn. Art., who is still recruiting at that point. Our visit was an extremely pleasant one, long to be remembered.

STOP THIEF!

In a recent number of our paper we mentioned that some thieving rascals had prowled about our sanctum, and robbed us of divers and sundry articles, more useful than ornamental; but the climax was capped, the other night, when some heartless scoundrel raised a "window sash" in our office, and stole a newspaper file of the War Eagle, when it was of a smaller size than it is now, and carried it away. As the file is of no value to any one but ourselves we would be very glad to exchange with the thief for its equivalent in greenbacks.

Doubtless, the infamous miscreant has felt ashamed of himself ever since he committed the act, and we will engage not to humiliate him any more if he will only bring back what belongs to us. Perhaps some "intelligent contraband" has got it.

GENERAL ORDERS.

We call attention to Col. Waring's order, No. 23, issued at Union City. It relates to camp discipline, and will be found interesting to our readers there. The Colonel is a strict disciplinarian, and always means what he says. Officers and men will do well to clip this order out and paste it in their hats.

Orders, No. 26, from the Provost Marshal's office here, directing all soldiers, not on duty and visiting town, to leave their arms behind them, also demand attention.

Orders, No. 163, from Headquarters 16th Army Corps, are also of interest. They state that, in time of actual field service, officers of Cavalry, Artillery and Infantry are permitted to wear light blue overcoats as prescribed for enlisted men of the mounted corps. In each regiment or detachment, either the regulation hat or cap must be worn by the entire command. The use of part of each will not be permitted.

REINFORCEMENTS.

Troops are pouring into Columbus continually. To mention the number would be contraband at this time.

THE LATE FIRE

The corner, where a few days ago, the Military Prison stood, now presents a most desolate appearance. Soldiers, and citizens of African descent, are seen poking with sticks, among the cinders, with the expectation, doubtless, of turning up immense treasures. There is always some consolation to be derived from the fact that every calamity might have been worse. Had the breeze been in such a direction as to carry the flames across the street, nothing could have saved the Columbus House from destruction; Porter's Corner, and, perhaps, nearly all that part of town would have been consumed. As it was, the walls of some of the buildings were much heated, and it was only by the most determined efforts, that that portion of Columbus was saved. By the by, some of our friends complained that, last week, we only noticed a few of those entitled to praise; there is no doubt of that. It was impossible to mention the names of everyone, and we only referred to those whom, we observed particularly, or whom we happened to hear spoken of. As so many did well, and we could not refer to all, it might have been proper not to have mentioned any? When we say that many acted nobly, all the deserving will please count themselves in. If that is not satisfactory, we will publish their names gratis if they will send them to us. In regard to McKean Hubbard and Mr. Thallimer, we believe there is but one opinion, and that is, both deserve the highest praise. We are glad to learn that a purse of thirty dollars was made up by some of our citizens, for Mr. Thallimer, and for which he returns his thanks in the following modest manner:

FARWELL GOODALL: Having received a highly complimentary notice through the columns of your paper for the little part taken by me during the fire last Tuesday morning, I beg leave to return my thanks to all concerned, for the compliment conferred upon me. And also for the handsome sum of thirty dollars which was presented to me by the good citizens of Columbus, for which I am truly grateful, and for which they have my best wishes and regards.

G. G. THALLIMER,
24th Mo. Vols.

It is a great pity that there is no fire engine at this post. When Gen. Dodge was here, an effort was made by Capt. O'Brien, the Quartermaster, to obtain one, there having been, at that time, a large amount of Government stores on hand; but the application was returned disapproved by Chief Quartermaster Allen at St. Louis. Gen. Dodge then applied to Gen. Grant, but he declined to interfere, and so the matter was dropped.

A good fire engine is certainly needed, and had there been one at this post, the Military Prison and other buildings would, in all probability, have been saved. We think it is worth while for the citizens to move in this matter.

The only way we have, at present, of quenching fires is by passing buckets of water from hand to hand.

With the aid of an engine, not only could the fire, the other night, have been quickly subdued, but the two steamers burned at this port, more than a year ago, when a large amount of Government property was destroyed, and Charlie Lyman's books were balanced, might have been saved from the ravages of the devouring element.

We learn that Joe Salls & Co., boot and shoe dealers, lost some four hundred dollars worth of goods, having been taken while a portion of the stock was being removed; the building having, at one time, been in imminent danger. Had this place caught fire, Morse & Perkins' grocery store would also have been destroyed. Both of these firms advertise with us, and are doing a fine business.

Dr. Underhill informs us that his loss will reach several hundred dollars, including fixtures, &c. The Doctor has been quite unfortunate during the past year. He is a clever man, and we wish him better luck in the future.

Our friend Parker and his "Bazaar," had a very narrow escape; the tearing away of the Da guerran Gallery, was all that saved them. His loss will not exceed eighty dollars. We congratulate our friend, and hope he will be permitted to pursue his avial and ornithological researches in safety.

VARIOUS ITEMS.

Briggs, for getting whipped at Chattanooga has been succeeded by Gen. Hardee.

Cotton is selling at about thirty to seventy-five cents a pound, at Cairo.

Gen. McPherson has issued a conscription order similar to that issued by Gen. Hurlbut.

It is reported that Longstreet retreated on the shell road. Very likely.

The weather during the week has been very much like some people's opinion on the war—variable.

The steamer Great Eastern will be sold at auction on the 14th of January. Our government should buy her for a floating hospital.

Gen. Grant has captured, since the war broke out, 472 cannon and 30,000 prisoners. Pretty fair, considering.

In the Missouri Legislature, resolutions were introduced for the abolition of Slavery in all the States. "Where are we drifting?"

A number of Jews are under arrest at Memphis for swindling the Government. Two hundred thousand dollars will have to be accounted for by the parties accused.

Mr. Anderson voted for Schuyler Colfax for Speaker. Nearly all the members from the border States did the same thing. Again we say, Bully for Anderson!

The Swan was fired into at the mouth of Red River. The "birds" didn't touch a feather. Wonder how the scamps would like a shot at our Eagle?

Lee chased Meade to Centerville. Meade reversed matters and chased Lee to the Rapidan. But Meade is back again at this writing. Meade and Lee go so frequently over the same ground that they might be employed to carry the mails.

Why is Capt. Frank Moore, 2d Ill. Cav., like Gen. Sherman? Because he is a friend of municipal improvements,—having cleaned out a Street at Meriwether's Ferry lately, while the latter cleaned out a Longstreet at Knoxville.

Gen. Brantlett's message is published in the Louisville and Cincinnati papers. It has the ring of the true metal in it. Like another important document—Uncle Abe's—it is too voluminous for the War Eagle to venture upon. We would respectfully request of the authors to make these papers, hereafter, a little shorter.

The 13th Tenn. Cavalry.—This excellent regiment is filling up rapidly, and will be almost full by the first of January. Mr. Bradford will probably be the Colonel; Capt. Frank Moore, Lieut. Colonel; Capt. Young, Provost Marshal; Major; Lieut. Foulkes, a Captain; Sergt. Burke, of Co. D, 2d Ill. Cav., another, and our friend Mack Learning, clerk in the Provost Marshal's office, will be the Adjutant; a splendid list of officers, so far—and many remain to be filled. We do not know of a finer regiment in the service than this promise to be, and we most earnestly advise all those who intend to enter the cavalry, to hold their names at once to the 13th Tenn.

Form.—The "Retreat from Beauregard," on the outside of our paper, is the pen of W. R. St. Clair, who, though not exactly an aborigine, is an old settler, and his poem relates to an amusing skeddadle from "Camp Beauregard."

LOCAL MATTERS.

RELIEVED.—We learn that Lieut. George W. Friedlein, Act. Asst. Topographical Engineer, at Columbus, has been relieved and ordered to report to his regiment at Union City.

THANKS.—We are under obligations to Mr. Riecke for two chains sent to our office. Mr. Riecke does an extensive business, and always has a large supply of goods on hand.

RECRUITING.—By a special order from Gen. Hurlbut, a number of commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the 53d Indiana have been sent home on recruiting service.

THE CAIRO DEMOCRAT has come out in a fine new dress—briefer at that. This looks like prosperity. Whether Bradly & Co., continue to speak to folks is more than we can say until we take a trip to Cairo.

RETURNED.—Col. Scott, having returned, has relieved Col. Shaw, who, in addition to other important duties, has been commanding the Post temporarily. The former is looking very well, considering.

ANOTHER ATTACK UPON FORT HOSIER.—A Lieutenant in the 25th Mo., made an attack upon Fort Hosier the other night, and it is reported that in this encounter the Lieutenant came off second best. His rear was considerably harassed, according to all accounts. Couldn't say whether he left a family or not.

FASHIONABLE BOOT AND SHOE MAKER.—Peter Allen, the popular boot and shoe maker, whose card we publish in another column, keeps the very best of articles in his line, his goods being nearly all custom made. For a well made and neat fitting boot and shoe, call on Peter Allen. Terms reasonable.

JE TOWN.—Maj. Rowley, Provost Marshal General of the Department, was in town this week. He came direct from Gen. Grant's headquarters and spoke very encouragingly of matters there. The Major looked as well as ever, and appeared as intent on business as when he was stationed here.

POULTRY.—Lieut. Miles and "Sergeant" Frank Downing, of the 14th Iowa, while on a reconnaissance among the negro shanties in quest of a culprit the other evening, came across a practical Amalgamationist. He stated that he was a good Democrat, wanted the Union as it was, &c. We hope Mr. H— will look after his soldiers.

THE YOUNG CAVE.—Lieut. Ross Wilkinson, of Gen. Smith's Staff, left for Washington, Friday, with Wm. Youn and Mr. Hueston, clerk of the steamer Armada, charged with kidnapping, to be tried there. The records of the great Military Commission held by order of Gen. Buell—with Lieut. Cunningham and a colored man as witnesses—were taken also. Look out for a high old time!

SURE EYES.—This complaint is prevalent in the army. Two men in Co. D, 2d Ill. Cav., are in very bad condition. One of them, Charlie Hosp, is entirely blind, his eyes being perfectly black and dried up, and the balls protruding out upon his face; while the other, Thomas Walsh, is almost blind. When we saw them one was leading the other, and they presented a sad appearance. They were both sent to the St. Louis Hospital this week. Mr. Spencer, in Co. L, also, in a very bad condition from the same disease, and is now in the Puduch Hospital.

COURT MARTIAL.—The Court Martial dissolved by Special Orders, No. 301, Headquarters District of Columbus, published elsewhere, tried before it closed, 1st Lieut. Wm. Grebe, Co. E, 4th Mo. Cav., Private Albert L. Avery, Co. E, 15th Ky. Cav., Private Geo. Bell, Co. A, 2d Bat. 16th Inf., Private Francis Goodroe, Co. M, 4th Mo. Cav., Sergt. Benjamin F. French, and Privates Wm. Guld, George Eisele, Jonathan Steele and Nathan Rodgers, of the 53d Ind.

Lieut. Grebe, was charged with neglect of duty, disrespectful language to his superior officer, mutiny, conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman, and conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline.

The court having maturely considered the evidence adduced, found the accused guilty of seven specifications, and two charges; and not guilty of six specifications and two charges, and he was sentenced to be publicly reprimanded in General Orders, from District Headquarters, and to be suspended from rank, pay and emoluments for the term of six months. Gen. Smith approved the finding and sentence, and remarked that Lieut. Grebe, had been sufficiently long in service to know that the first duty of a soldier is prompt and implicit obedience to his superiors, and he should set such example to those under his control, as would be worthy of praise. Gen. Smith added, owing to the length of confinement and the great need of cavalry officers for active service in the field, the sentence awarded Lieut. Grebe, by the Court, is commuted to a forfeiture of one month's pay. Lieut. Grebe will be released from arrest, resume his sword and return to duty in his company.

The Lieutenant is an officer in the Prussian service, a young man, who obtained a leave of absence and came to this country and joined the 4th Mo. Cav.

[Concluded next week.]

A MALICIOUS "GOAK" UPON A VERY "GREEN" SUBJECT.

One day, the fore part of this week, a Mr. Grebe, claiming to be one of the soldiers of a Cavalry Regiment, at Union City, had purchased for him at Cairo a lot of Bologna sausages, pigs' feet, smoking tobacco, candles, &c., and ordered them to be sent here,—all of which was done, "and more too."—the goods arrived and were permitted as above intimated, there being nothing contraband in the bill. Now these goods happened to come under the observation of Mr. Carlile, the lynx-eyed Superintendent of the Railroad, and he thought that a box marked smoking tobacco, gave evidence of a greater gravity than an article intended for such "light" purposes should do, so he mentioned the matter to Mr. Green—who was too good a business man to be green enough to entrust the shipment of contraband goods to others—Mr. Green, who is an honest man, said it was all right. Mr. Carlile thought it was not all right, and proposed opening the box. Mr. Green did not like to have this done, the box was a good one and the cover might be injured by opening it. Mr. Carlile persisted and Grebe demurred. Grebe became white as Carlile became determined, so not to cause him any more trouble over such a trifling lot of goods, Grebe told him to "put 'em aboard, never mind what it cost." Now Mr. Carlile is an extremely cautious man and very economical, and he thought that by the remarks Mr. Green made it might cost him a little more than he would like to pay, and so took off the cover. Nothing could be seen but harmless papers of smoking tobacco, now that ought to have satisfied any man, but it didn't Mr. Carlile although Mr. Green told him it was all right. He even doubted Mr. Green's word, and he, Mr. Green, is a soldier too. This audacious Mr. Carlile went tumbling over the box and found smoking tobacco; he retributed and found in his smoking tobacco; he tripped and found something that was smoking tobacco; on being brought to Lieut. Grebe, he found a ten gallon keg and, when opened, the contents smoked like whisky. Mr. Grebe, who was white, stood against the wall with astonishment. Now, whilst all this was going on, Capt. Williams, no, I. H. Williams, Captain and District Provost Marshal, and a good judge of green things, got wind of it and said that Mr. Grebe had evidently been imposed upon, and to guard against any further impositions being practiced upon Mr. Green, he suggested that he store the property for him, and examine into the extent of the fraud upon Mr. Green by these "Cavalry" men in substituting gallin legs and stuff smelling like whisky, for tobacco, bologna sausage, &c., and he also thought Mr. Green too green to be in such a large commercial city as Columbus since the conscript "all passed, and he recommended Mr. Green quarters furnished him with a good room out of our commission for Mr. Green wore a sympathetic badge, P. M. G., Poor Mr. Grebe, and as the examination of the goods would be by far too trying for the nerves of so susceptible a man as Mr. Green, he was not required to be present, although he was self-sacrificing enough to offer to be, but the Captain thought he could get along without him and called to his aid Commodore Bartlett of the Clipper "Sally Ann." The Commodore made a post mortem examination and found verdict as follows: five kegs pigs' feet, very dead; one box candles, short and wick'd; one cask, complaint unknown; one barrel bologna sausages. Verdict, some bologna with internal tumors—very internal, about the size of a ten gallon keg—tumors punctured—limpid fluid followed puncture—translucent—taste, villainous—smell, like infernal bait whisky. Conclusion: whisky meaner than searsh principles. Another barrel of bologna sausages—evidently the same complaint, verdict, the same—a lot, 10 barrels of Beer—verdict, no organic disease discernible—don't belong to the family because it wasn't paid for—constitution, sound—evident willingness to "smoke"—turned over to claimant, Mr. Spout, to work 'tout,—this was about the result of the Commodore's inquest as he sat upon the property,—and as your correspondent saw him. The Commodore had become impressed with the idea that the jury weren't quite right, and was filling it up with bologna. Now, the next question is, was practiced this gigantic, this gigantic swindle upon Mr. Green,—he says he did not know that these articles were anything else but as representative of the bill. This must be forewarned and it is found that the deck hand on the steamer O'Brien were guilty of putting this abominable liquor into Mr. Green's boxes, and barrels, they should suffer for it. If tried and convicted, let their sentence be "to smell of the liquor twice a day until dead" and if it doesn't kill them in two weeks, make them read one of Bishop General Polk's prayers, and that'll place them as perfectly hors du combat as the "Lady Polk" is, that "done" bust up at Fort Halleck awhile ago. Capt. Williams took especial care of Mr. Green, and conferred with Gen. A. J. Smith, Commander of the District, about this matter, and the result of the conference, was that somebody had evidently tried to swindle somebody, and they took compassion upon Mr. Green and only charged him one hundred dollars, probably for board, lodging, lights, fuel, and attendants for two days, at the Government "Hotel de Dowd,"—perhaps he occupied this Bridal chamber,—the St. Nicholas at New York charges fifty a day for their Bridal accommodations, and the "Hotel de Dowd" is kept on the same plan—meals served in rooms, &c. The Captain also thought that Mr. Green, not invisible Green, was too verdant to be where there are so many people about loose, and he read to him a very pretty story entitled "United States vs. William Green"—and it was very interesting to him,—it said he was fined one hundred dollars, and was to leave the Military District of Columbus, Ky., within eight days from the 5th of December, not to return during the war. This little story—(not to be found in the New York Ledger)—was edited by I. H. Williams, Captain and District Provost Marshal, and dedicated to Mr. William Green, of the village of St. Louis. Mr. Green will depart, and "bologna" will forever hereafter be undersold by Mr. Green. S. K.

THE RETREAT FROM BEAUREGARD, JAN. 7, 1863.

"The wicked flee when no man pursueth."
 Prov. XXVIII, 1.

BY W. R. ST. CLAIR.

At Beauregard, one wintry night,
 (The night was dark, there was no light,
 Save the bivouac's fire bright,
 Was burning rather cheerily.)

King's men were on the Picket Guard,
 And thought, no doubt, it rather hard;
 Their slumbers might be quickly marred,
 By foemen coming rapidly.

But, lo! what sound is that we hear?
 "Eleven thousand men are near!"
 And if our legs give out, we fear
 We'll fall into captivity.

So run, boys, run, quick out of harm,
 At Beauregard give the alarm.
 The thing it will work like a charm,
 When we are once more in safety.

At camp, the news like lightning spread,
 Lord! how the rebels jumped out of bed!
 And how they down the hill then fled,
 To have a run for Dixie.

The Artillery quickly thundered by—
 The Cavalry, ahead did fly,
 And "have himself, who can," the cry,
 Of all that Southern chivalry!

It was no ordinary fun,
 How they skinned saplings on the run,
 And threw away both sword and gun,
 So to advance more rapidly.

The baggage ev'rywhere was found,
 In piles a-lying on the ground.
 All round the woods, on hill and mound,
 It scattered was abundantly.

The iron horse, it was in sight,
 And there they run with all their might,
 "For he who runs shall live to fight
 Another day, the enemy."

King's camp was blazing to the sky,
 His crop of sugar soon laid by;
 In flames, his coffee rose up high,
 Above shin-plaster currency.

They tottled off with might and main,
 With no thought to be back again.
 Although no enemy they could scan,
 In thirty miles of Paducah.

And do you want to know the cause
 That stirred up such an awful fuss?
 Then listen here without a pause,
 And I will tell you presently.

"They'd met a nigger on a 'bay,'
 A hunting of the cows that day,
 And then ran off without delay,
 Reporting 'Northern Cavalry!'"

KILLED.—Capt. Samuel DeGolyer, commandant of the famous 8th Michigan Battery of that name, formerly stationed in this District—at Columbus, Hickman, Island 10 and New Madrid—was killed at Vicksburg. Capt. DeGolyer was one of the first who escaped from Libby Prison, Richmond, after the first Bull Run battle, and since raised the Battery which he commanded.
